Why did Makkah trust him with its treasures?

الأمين

The Trustworthy

“And you do surely possess high moral excellences.”

HOLY QURAN 68:5

KNOWN FOR HONESTY

Even before prophethood, Makkah honored Prophet Muhammad (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him) as Al-Amin, the Trustworthy, placing their most precious belongings in his care. The esteemed merchant Khadijah entrusted him with her trade and later proposed marriage. So profound was his integrity that even fierce opponents kept their valuables with him, which were safely returned before the historic migration to Madinah.

LESSON FOR TODAY

Trust is earned long before it is needed: keep your word, even with those who oppose you.
