Not Sure Yet? Ask Allah.

If you understand, then come forward and accept Allah's blessings which the Holy Prophet Muhammad<sup>sa</sup> guided towards.

If you are not sure what to do, then we suggest that you pray to Allah and ask Him to guide you because one thing is for sure, these signs will not occur again.

“O Allah, has the Mahdi come? Have the eclipses truly occurred? Has Khilafat returned? O Allah, guide me. You know all things, and I need your guidance. If Mirza Ghulam Ahmad is truly the Imam of the age, tell me so I do not die in ignorance. If his Khilafat is the answer, then do not let me stay out of its protection.”

IS IT the Year of the IMAM MAHDI?

Is it the Year of the Imam Mahdi?

When Ramadhan comes, the telescopes are taken out in hopes of seeing the new moon. Sighting the moon can be a challenge, as it is not always visible to the naked eye. Yet, its importance is undeniable—it marks the beginning of Ramadhan, a month filled with blessings, and it also signals the arrival of Eid celebrations.

Did you know that the new moon is not the only heavenly sign that Muslims are expected to look for in Ramadhan? There is a far greater sign that has been foretold in the Holy Qur'an and by the Holy Prophet Muhammad<sup>sa</sup>—a sign that, if missed, will not appear again.

The Prophecy of the Eclipses

Allah Almighty mentions this sign in the Holy Qur'an in the following words:

وَحَسَفَ الْقَمَرُ وَجُمِعَ الشَّمْسُ وَالْقَمَرُ
 “The Moon is eclipsed, and the Sun and the Moon are brought together.”
 (Surah Al-Qiyamah 75:6-7)

“The Holy Prophet Muhammad<sup>sa</sup> also prophesied:

“For our Mahdi, there are two signs that have never appeared for anyone else since the creation of the heavens and the earth: the moon will be eclipsed on the first night among the eclipsing nights, and the sun will be eclipsed on the middle day among the eclipsing days, and these signs have never occurred since the creation of the heavens and the earth.”

(Sunan Ad-Darqutni, Vol. 2, p. 65)

A Mighty Sign In the End Times

This prophecy is extraordinary because eclipses can only occur on specific dates in the lunar calendar:

- Lunar eclipses can only happen on the 13th, 14th, or 15th of a lunar month.
- Solar eclipses can only happen on the 27th, 28th, or 29th of a lunar month.

The Holy Prophets<sup>sa</sup> specified that in a future Ramadhan, a lunar eclipse would occur on the 13th, and a solar eclipse would occur on the 28th—a prophecy with exact dates!

Eclipses in 2025: A Reminder

Two eclipses took place in Ramadhan 2025. They did not match the exact prophesied days, however they serve as a reminder of a past fulfillment of this prophecy.

Prophecy Fulfilled: Ramadhan 1894 & 1895

In Ramadhan of 1894 and 1895, the prophesied eclipses took place exactly as foretold:

- ✓ Lunar eclipse: 13th of Ramadhan
- ✓ Solar eclipse: 28th of Ramadhan

Meanwhile, in 1891, Mirza Ghulam Ahmad<sup>as</sup> had already announced that he was sent by Allah as the Promised Messiah & Mahdi. These heavenly signs confirmed his truthfulness, and Islam Ahmadiyyat became a refuge for those seeking guidance.

Historical records show the fulfillment of this sign. In fact, it is reported that when these eclipses occurred, the advent of the Imam Mahdi became the talk of the town in Mecca. Many subsequently accepted Mirza Ghulam Ahmad<sup>as</sup> as the Promised Reformer of the age.

No Telescope Required, Just Righteousness

Just as some struggle to sight the new moon, many Muslims overlook the clear signs of the Imam Mahdi's advent despite knowing of their fulfillment.

The sign of the eclipses was made for the entire world to see. It is not the sort of sign which requires interpretation, nor a telescope for that matter.
